International Programs Scholarships

Visit FS4U (fsu.academicworks.com) to apply for an International Programs scholarship. You only need to apply to one opportunity in FS4U. IP will award all scholarships from the applicants in this pool.

IP Scholarships are only available to students who have applied to an IP program and have completed at least 15 FSU undergraduate credit hours or 9 FSU graduate hours by the scholarship application deadlines. Note: IP scholarships are not available to students currently on the First Year/Semester Abroad program or to those who are directly enrolled at FSU Panama.

The scholarship opportunity in FS4U is called International Programs Scholarship.

From this opportunity, IP will select recipients of the following awards if there is funding currently available. All applicants are notified of award status prior to the commitment fee due date.

Outside Scholarship Opportunities

Listed below are some websites you can check out for possible scholarships or grants. Carefully review the requirements to be sure you qualify, and check with the sponsoring organizations to be sure you have submitted all the necessary documents.

In general, the smaller the geographical area a scholarship covers, the better your chances of receiving an award. Other ideas include looking for scholarships for residents of your town, county, and state. Then start looking at large national scholarships such as ROTC, National Merit, Bill Gates, Coca-Cola, and Robert Byrd.
